

ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE

The securing clip for securing the first panel member with the second panel member, the securing clip being like the S-character in cross section, includes a first fitting portion
5 for fitting a holed end portion of the first panel member, and a second fitting portion for fitting a holed end portion of the second panel member, wherein each of the first fitting portion and the second fitting portion is formed with an engaging pawl engaging a hole at the end portion of the corresponding 10 panel member on an inner wall face of its own, and the second fitting portion is formed with an engagement wall engaging a regulation wall provided on the second panel member.